Pinot Grigio

Vintage Notes
On the heels of an unseasonably mild winter, a late frost kicked off the 2016 growing season in the Fingerlakes. This caused some stress in the form of bud loss, but as late spring moved into summer we saw what was to become one of the most intense droughts ever seen in this region. High heat, sun filled skies, and virtually no rain whatsoever, for all intents and purposes, eradicated any disease pressure while forcing the root systems of our mature vines ever deeper into more nutrient rich soil and concentrating deep, rich and intense flavor in the fruit. Early fall was equally dry and harvest kicked off with a bang. Moisture did arrive toward the end of the season, bringing the fruit to beautiful maturity. All in all 2016 resulted in smaller than average yields, but quality was absolutely, mouth-wateringly, phenomenal! We look forward with eager hearts and taste buds to enjoy the results of the 2016 growing season!

Tasting Notes & Food Pairing
Leading with notes of stone fruits on the nose, the current Pinot Grigio is another winner in the crowd pleasing arena. On the palate the minerality is balanced by lush fruit flavors of citrus, the zing of pineapple, and golden apples on the finish. Pair this with grilled artichokes, peppery arugula and cucumber salad, or shrimp cocktail.
